

Advice

Advice when most needed is least heeded

Good advice is beyond all price

If advice will not improve him neither will the rod

If you wish good advice consult an old man

Nothing is given so freely as advice

When a thing is done advice comes late