As

All must be as god wills
As a man lives so shall he die
As laughter increases respect decreases
As well be hanged for a sheep as a lamb
As you are so will your governors be
As you make your bed so you must lie in it
As you sow so shall you reap
A blow from a lover is as sweet as the eating of raisins
Do as i say not as i do
Do as most men do then most men will speak well of you
Do as you would be done by
Do as you're bidden and you'll never bear blame
Dogs wag their tails no so much in love to you as to your bread
Dying is as natural as living
The devil is not so black as he is painted
Every one acts as he is brought up
Fair words and foul deeds cheat wise men as well as fools
Handsome is as handsome does
Hatred is blind as well as love
He that may not do as he would must do as he may
An honest man's word is as good as his bond
An hour of pain is as long as a day of pleasure

It is as well to know which way the wind blows

Job was not miserable in his suffering as he was happy in his patience

Love each other as brothers trade as strangers

A man is as old as he feels and a woman is as old as she looks

Man is not so soon healed as hurt

A miss is as good as a mile

A nod is as good as a wink to a blind horse

None so blind as those who won't see

None so deaf as those who won't hear

Nothing is as good as it seems beforehand

Nothing is given so freely as advice

Nothing is so certain as the unexpected

Nothing so necessary for travellers as languages

Put off the evil hour as long as you can

The receiver is as bad as the thief

A rose by any other name would smell as sweet

Some of our suspicions are reckoned as sins

Take things as they come

Take things as you find them

There are as many good fish in the sea as ever came out of it

There is a sin of omission as well as of commission

Think not on what you lack as much as on what you have

War hunting and love are as full of trouble as pleasure

When in rome do as the romans do

Wisdom is to the soul as health is to the body

Women are as wavering as the wind

There is no such thing as bad weather only the wrong clothes

Better to live one day as a tiger than a thousand years as a sheep

Blessings brighten as they take their flight

There's none so blind as those who will not see

As you brew so shall you bake

It doesn't matter if a cat is black or white as long as it catches mice

A change is as good as a rest

It is as cheap sitting as standing

As the day lengthens so the cold strengthens

There's none so deaf as those who will not hear

Do unto others as you would they should do unto you

Enough is as good as a feast

There are as good fish in the sea as ever came out of it

There's no such thing as a free lunch

One might as well be hanged for a sheep as a lamb

Home is home as the devil said when he found himself in the court of session

Jack is as good as his master

As you make your bed so you must lie upon it

A man is as old as he feels and a woman as old as she looks

If you gently touch a nettle it'll sting you for your pains grasp it like a lad of mettle an' as soft as silk remains

Nothing so bold as a blind mare

There is nothing so good for the inside of a man as the outside of a horse

There's nowt so queer as folk

Pretty is as pretty does

As you sow so you reap

Speak as you find

Three removals are as bad as a fire

As a tree falls so shall it lie

As the twig is bent so is the tree inclined

Work expands so as to fill the time available

It's dogged as does it

As good be an addled egg as an idle bird

A nod's as good as a wink to a blind horse
