

Cut

Cut your coat according to your cloth
Diamond cut diamond
Don't cut off your nose to spite your face
Don't cut the bough you are standing on
A fool's tongue is long enough to cut his own throat
Good company on the road is the shortest cut
Let not your tongue cut your throat
Many kiss the hand they wish to cut off
Measure thrice before you cut once
You must cut your coat according to your cloth
Do not cut off your nose to spite your face
When the last tree is cut down the last fish eaten and the last stream poisoned you will realize that you cannot eat money
Measure seven times cut once
Measure twice cut once
A slice off a cut loaf isn't missed
Think twice cut once
