YanYu.lol

قاعدة بيانات الامثال والحكم الشعبية

Half

Correspondence is half a presence  A disease known is half cured  A fair face is half a fortune  A fault confessed is half redressed  The first blow is half the battle  Half a loaf is better than no bread  Half the truth is often a great lie  Half the world knows not how the other half lives  Six of one and half a dozen of the other  Well begun is half done  Believe nothing of what you hear and only half of what you see  Two boys are half a boy and three boys are no boy at all  The half is better than the whole  One half of the world does not know how the other half lives  Half the truth is often a whole lie  He that has an ill name is half hanged	Believe not all that you see nor half what you hear
A fair face is half a fortune  A fault confessed is half redressed  The first blow is half the battle  Half a loaf is better than no bread  Half the truth is often a great lie  Half the world knows not how the other half lives  Six of one and half a dozen of the other  Well begun is half done  Believe nothing of what you hear and only half of what you see  Two boys are half a boy and three boys are no boy at all  The half is better than the whole  One half of the world does not know how the other half lives  Half the truth is often a whole lie	Correspondence is half a presence
A fault confessed is half redressed  The first blow is half the battle  Half a loaf is better than no bread  Half the truth is often a great lie  Half the world knows not how the other half lives  Six of one and half a dozen of the other  Well begun is half done  Believe nothing of what you hear and only half of what you see  Two boys are half a boy and three boys are no boy at all  The half is better than the whole  One half of the world does not know how the other half lives  Half the truth is often a whole lie	A disease known is half cured
The first blow is half the battle  Half a loaf is better than no bread  Half the truth is often a great lie  Half the world knows not how the other half lives  Six of one and half a dozen of the other  Well begun is half done  Believe nothing of what you hear and only half of what you see  Two boys are half a boy and three boys are no boy at all  The half is better than the whole  One half of the world does not know how the other half lives  Half the truth is often a whole lie	A fair face is half a fortune
Half a loaf is better than no bread  Half the truth is often a great lie  Half the world knows not how the other half lives  Six of one and half a dozen of the other  Well begun is half done  Believe nothing of what you hear and only half of what you see  Two boys are half a boy and three boys are no boy at all  The half is better than the whole  One half of the world does not know how the other half lives  Half the truth is often a whole lie	A fault confessed is half redressed
Half the truth is often a great lie  Half the world knows not how the other half lives  Six of one and half a dozen of the other  Well begun is half done  Believe nothing of what you hear and only half of what you see  Two boys are half a boy and three boys are no boy at all  The half is better than the whole  One half of the world does not know how the other half lives  Half the truth is often a whole lie	The first blow is half the battle
Half the world knows not how the other half lives  Six of one and half a dozen of the other  Well begun is half done  Believe nothing of what you hear and only half of what you see  Two boys are half a boy and three boys are no boy at all  The half is better than the whole  One half of the world does not know how the other half lives  Half the truth is often a whole lie	Half a loaf is better than no bread
Six of one and half a dozen of the other  Well begun is half done  Believe nothing of what you hear and only half of what you see  Two boys are half a boy and three boys are no boy at all  The half is better than the whole  One half of the world does not know how the other half lives  Half the truth is often a whole lie	Half the truth is often a great lie
Well begun is half done  Believe nothing of what you hear and only half of what you see  Two boys are half a boy and three boys are no boy at all  The half is better than the whole  One half of the world does not know how the other half lives  Half the truth is often a whole lie	Half the world knows not how the other half lives
Believe nothing of what you hear and only half of what you see  Two boys are half a boy and three boys are no boy at all  The half is better than the whole  One half of the world does not know how the other half lives  Half the truth is often a whole lie	Six of one and half a dozen of the other
Two boys are half a boy and three boys are no boy at all  The half is better than the whole  One half of the world does not know how the other half lives  Half the truth is often a whole lie	Well begun is half done
The half is better than the whole  One half of the world does not know how the other half lives  Half the truth is often a whole lie	Believe nothing of what you hear and only half of what you see
One half of the world does not know how the other half lives  Half the truth is often a whole lie	Two boys are half a boy and three boys are no boy at all
Half the truth is often a whole lie	The half is better than the whole
	One half of the world does not know how the other half lives
He that has an ill name is half hanged	Half the truth is often a whole lie
	He that has an ill name is half hanged

2023 © Copyright: v.0.0.0.424 YanYu.lol