

Learning

Better to seek learning than to seek gold

Experience without learning is better than learning without experience

Learning is an ornament in prosperity a refuge in adversity and provision in old age

A little learning is a dangerous thing

Much learning makes men mad

Seek learning form the cradle to the grave

There is no royal road to learning

When house and land are gone and spent then learning is most excellent

Learning is better than house and land