Love

All is fair in love and war

The course of true love never did run smooth

Dogs wag their tails no so much in love to you as to your bread

The falling out of lovers is the renewing of love

Go not to the extreme in your love and hate

The greatest hate springs from the greatest love

Hatred is blind as well as love

He that has no children knows not what is love

It is love that makes the world go round

Love and cough cannot hide

Love cannot be compelled

Love each other as brothers trade as strangers

Love is blind

Love laughs at locksmiths

Love makes all hard hearts gentle

Love me little love me long

Love me love my dog

The love of money is the root of all evil

Love will find a way

Love will go through stone walls

Love your neighbour yet pull not down your fence

Lucky in life unlucky in love

Marry first and love will come afterwards
No love like the first love
Old love will not be forgotten
One cannot love and be wise
Salt water and absence wash away love
There are three things never hidden love a pregnant woman and one riding on a camel
War hunting and love are as full of trouble as pleasure
When the wolf comes in at the door love creeps out of the window
All's fair in love and war
Whom the gods love die young
Love and a cough cannot be hid
Love begets love
Love makes the world go round
Lucky at cards unlucky in love
It is best to be off with the old love before you are on with the new
Pity is akin to love
When poverty comes in at the door love flies out of the window
Praise the child and you make love to the mother
The quarrel of lovers is the renewal of love
