

YanYu.lol

قاعدة بيانات الامثال والحكم الشعبية

May

An accidental meeting may be better than a fixed date

Beauty may have fair leaves yet bitter fruit

Between the hand and the lip the morsel may slip

Beware of evil that may come from one whom you helped

A broken friendship may be soldered but will never be sound

A cat may look at a king

Defer not till tomorrow what may be done today

A fair face may hide a foul heart

Faith may move a mountain

Fine clothes may disguise but silly words will disclose a fool

A fool may throw a stone into a well which a hundred wise men cannot pull out

Gather ye rosebuds while ye may

He that fights and runs away may live to fight another day

He that may not do as he would must do as he may

He that protects and ill-doer may live to repent it

He that will not when he may when he will he shall have nay

He who peeps through a hole may see what will vex him

Hearts may agree though heads differ

A horse may stumble that has four legs

If you do not like it you may lump it

Injuries may be forgiven but not forgotten

January commits the fault and may bears the blame

A lion may come to be beholden to a mouse

A little neglect may breed great mischief

May god defend me from my friends i can defend myself from my enemies

Never put off till tomorrow what may be done today

The remedy may be worse than the disease

What may be done at any time is done at no time

The wolf may lose his teeth but never his nature

You may know by a handful the whole sack

You may lead a horse to the water but you cannot make him drink

April showers bring forth may flowers

Ne'er cast a clout till may be out

Never do evil that good may come of it

He who fights and runs away may live to fight another day

A fool may give a wise man counsel

Gold may be bought too dear

Whatever man has done man may do

Marry in may rue for aye

May chickens come cheeping

So many mists in march so many frosts in may

A mouse may help a lion

When the oak is before the ash then you will only get a splash when the ash is before the oak then you may expect a soak

Sell in may and go away

A sow may whistle though it has an ill mouth for it

One man may steal a horse while another may not look over a hedge

Sticks and stones may break my bones but words will never hurt me

A swarm in may is worth a load of hay a swarm in june is worth a silver spoon but a swarm in july is not worth a fly

Sweep the house with broom in may you sweep the head of the house away

Three may keep a secret if two of them are dead

Young men may die but old men must die