

Purse

Despise your purse but consider your person
An empty purse fills the face with wrinkles
He that hath a full purse never wanted a friend
He that hath not silver in his purse should have silk in his tongue
A heavy purse makes a light heart
A light purse makes a heavy heart
Little and often fills the purse
The purse of the patient protracts the disease
You can not make a silk purse out of a sow's ear