Should

Books and friends should be few but good
A fault confessed should be forgiven
A good worker should have good wages
He should have a long spoon that sups with the devil
He that hath not silver in his purse should have silk in his tongue
The house of the oppressor is destroyed though it should happen in distant times
If each would sweep before his own door we should have a clean city
If there were no clouds we should not enjoy the sun
Law makers should not be law breakers
Liars should have good memories
Merit belongs to the beginner should even the successor do better
A one-eyed man should not laugh at a hunch-backed
People who live in glass houses should not throw stones
Those who live in glass houses should not throw stones
Children should be seen and not heard
Why should the devil have all the best tunes
Do unto others as you would they should do unto you
Fools and bairns should never see half-done work
No one should be judge in his own cause
You should know a man seven years before you stir his fire
Nothing should be done in haste but gripping a flea
He who plants thorns should not expect to gather roses

He who sups with the devil should have a long spoon
