We

At the game's end we shall see who gains
Give us the tools and we will finish the job
God comes at last when we think he is furthest off
Grass and hay we are all mortal
If each would sweep before his own door we should have a clean city
If there were no clouds we should not enjoy the sun
If we are bound to forgive an enemy we are not bound to trust him
It is a fraud to borrow what we are not able to repay
Once on shore we pray no more
The pleasure of what we enjoy is lost by coveting more
A promise is debt that we must not forget
Sickness tells us what we are
United we stand divided we fall
We are all in the same boat
We are all slaves of opinion
We cannot always take what we want
We soon believe what we desire
We must eat a peck of dirt before we die
Eat drink and be merry for tomorrow we die
North wind doth blow we shall have snow
If the sky falls we shall catch larks
Times change and we with time

We must learn to walk before we can run
