

Desires

Desires are nourished by delays

Every man desires eagerly that which he has not attained

He is not poor that has little but he that desires much

Humble hearts have humble desires