

Garden

A man of words and not of deeds is like a garden full of weeds

There is no garden without its weeds

If you would be happy for a week take a wife if you would be happy for a month kill a pig but if you would be happy all your life plant a garden