It

As you make your bed so you must lie in it
Cross the stream where it is shallowest
Death is a glass everyone will drink it
Destroy the seed of evil or it will grow up to your ruin
Do good and cast it into the sea
Don't cross a bridge till you come to it
Dress a stick and it does not appear to be a stick
The dearer it is the cheaper
Every doubtful accusation leaves a stain behind it
Give a lie twenty-four hours' start and you can never overtake it
Give neither counsel nor salt till you are asked for it
He bears poverty best who hides it most
He doubles his gift who gives it in time
He that commits a fault thinks everyone speaks of it
He that defends an injury is next to him that commits it
He that does the damage must pay for it
He that has a great nose thinks everybody is speaking of it
He that has done ill once will do it again
He that protects and ill-doer may live to repent it
He who risks his life is blameworthy even if he escapes with it
He who seeks to do good is like the one who did it
