

Mother

| |
|--|
| Experience is the mother of wisdom |
| The good mother says not “will you” but gives |
| Happy is she who marries the son of a dead mother |
| He that would the daughter win must with the mother first begin |
| Like mother like daughter |
| Necessity is the mother of invention |
| Want is the mother of industry |
| Diligence is the mother of good luck |
| The mother of mischief is no bigger than a midge’s wing |
| Praise the child and you make love to the mother |
