

YanYu.lol

Base de données des proverbes et sagesses populaires

World

Half the world knows not how the other half lives
The hand that rocks the cradle rules the world
He that deals with the world needs four sieves
In the world who knows not to swim goes to the bottom
It is love that makes the world go round
It takes all sorts to make a world
Laugh and the world laughs with you weep and you weep alone
Let the world wag
The world is a ladder for some to go up and some down
Better be out of the world than out of the fashion
One half of the world does not know how the other half lives
A lie is halfway round the world before the truth has got its boots on Love makes the world go round